

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

PUBLISHED THURSDAY AND FRIDAY MORNING.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

SUBSCRIPTION $2 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

Local trading notices $100 per line. Special local notices $100 per line. Advertising rates for standing advertisements furnished on application.

OFFICE, 14 AND 20 NINTH STREET.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1894.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce

DR. JOHN D. CLARDY.

of Christian county, as a candidate for CONGRESS, in the Second District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We announce by authority

JUDGE JOHN R. GRACE.

of Trigg county, as a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals in the First Appellate District, subject to the action of the Democratic party. County Conventions Sept. 29, district convention Oct. 3, at Princeton, Ky.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress

JOHN D. CLARDY.

For County Judge

LARKIN J. BRASHER.

For County Attorney

THOS. J. MORROW.

For County Clerk

MAT. S. MAJOR.

For Sheriff

W. J. WITHERS.

For Assessor

D. R. PERRY.

For Surveyor

H. P. RIVES.

For Jailor

GEO. W. LONG.

For Coroner

DR. J. M. DENNIS.

South Hopkinsville Magisterial District—Henry Morris, Magistrate; W. H. West, Constable.

Westbrook Magisterial District—Joseph Gray, Magistrate; J. V. Forbes, Constable.

Lafayette Magisterial District—F. I. Frazer, Magistrate; R. H. Thacker, Constable.

Longview Magisterial District—Thos. M. Barker, Magistrate; M. D. Boone, Constable.

The Elkton Progress in a half column article declares for Maj. Hale for Secretary of State.

Tennessee Republicans busted the Hook machine and nominated H. Clay Evans for Governor.

The Kentucky Stock Farm, at Lexington, has put in the first Thorpe Type Setter to be introduced in Kentucky.

A special meeting of the Kentucky Bar Association has been called to meet at Frankfort Sept. 17 to take action on the death of Chief Justice Bennett.

Mr. Jas. P. Thompson, for 23 years one of the proprietors of the News, will within the next two weeks start a new daily at Paducah to be called the Morning Dispatch.

It is claimed that Col. Seabree has a bare chance of election to Congress, Jess so, says Dr. Clardy's "loaded for bear," and will give "a bear chance."—Uniontown News.

Quartus C. Rust, who claimed to have killed Gen. Zollicoffer at the battle of Perryville in 1862, and whose claim has never been disputed, was found dead near Indianapolis last week, having been killed in a runaway accident. His horse was also dead.

The September Southern Magazine contains a readable array of matter artistically illustrated: "Art in the South," by William Sartain; "The Next Step," a timely paper on the taxes of incomes by Hon. C. W. Buck; a delightful story by Will Allen Droomgrole; "The Cane Sugar Industry," illustrated, and other articles, making up a most acceptable number.

Dr. John D. Clardy, of Christian county, has been nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the second Congressional district. Dr. Clardy is a graduate of Georgetown college, and was a member of the late Constitutional Convention and one of the World's fair Commissioners for Kentucky. He will make a good representative and be a credit to our district. We have but little more doubt of his election in November than we have that he will be anywhere from 3,000 to 5,000.—Hustler.

This is a fact to have a bad or hobby; so if you do not wish to be considered "a no account sort of person" you must straightway adopt one. Of course, ordinary people cannot afford to indulge in hobbies that cost money, like Rembrandts and houses, and yachting; but you may have a hobby for walking, and that costs only shoe-leather and time; or for collecting wild flowers, which is quite as inexpensive; indeed, there are a thousand and one things that are pleasant to do, and can easily be developed into very presentable hobbies. In the September number of DeMores's Magazine, Henry O. Havemyer, Francis Wilford, Hamilton W. Mabie, Edward E. Rice, and Senator W. A. Puffer talk entertainingly about their hobbies, and it is very interesting reading; the interest being heightened by their accompanying portraits. Altogether, this is an exceptionally brilliant number; and the beautiful water-color, "Goldenrod," is worth much more to lovers of the beautiful than the subscription price for the whole year, which is only $2. Published by W. J. JENNINGS, Democrat, 15 E. 14th St., New York.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 70c.

Congressman "Buck" Kilgore, of Texas, has fallen outside the broadwork in an effort to secure a nomination.

The Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias, in session at Washington this week. President Cleveland will review the grand parade to-day.

The lion and the lamb have lain down together in Henderson and both the Journal and Gleaner will unite in supporting Mr. Yeaman for judge.

Unless the unexpected happened, the tariff bill became a law last night at midnight without the President's signature and the small remnant of Congress still in Washington will adjourn to-day.

Two colored murderers, while en route to the penitentiary to serve life sentences, were taken from the officers and lynched near Montgomery, Ala. Their names were Riley Walker and Richard Jordan.

Judge Grace was nominated at Princeton when his judicial career first began and it is quite proper that Princeton should have been selected for the convention in which his highest aspirations are likely to be realized. The coincidence is one that has greatly encouraged Judge Grace's friends.

The Louisville Times pokes fun at Ligo after this fashion: "In the game of politics Jno. D. Clardy holds too many cards for 'Lige Sobree' to expect to win, good player and good fellow as the latter is. It is fortunate for Clardy, however, that the game is politics, and not another game that is spelled with a 'p'."

Dr. John D. Clardy, of Christian county, was nominated for Congress upon the first ballot by the Democrats of the Second district at Owensboro, Ky., Thursday. Dr. Clardy represented Christian county in the Constitutional Convention, and was subsequently appointed World's Fair Commissioner by Gov. Brown. He is a successful farmer, and one of the most popular men in his district.—Shelby Sentinel.

A conservative estimate of the probable strength of the four candidates in the district, if the convention should be held this week, gives Grace 44, Bishop 32, Yeaman 28, White 27. Judge Grace will do better than this though. He will have at least 50 votes on the first ballot, of a nomination put him within 10 votes, of a nomination. The conviction is fast taking hold of the public mind that Grace is a dead sure winner.

Paducah is said to be disgruntled because the counties in the districts of Judge Grace and Mr. Yeaman preferred to have the convention at Princeton, which town an inspection of the map will show is almost the exact geographical center of the district. There is just the faintest suspicion that our McCracken county friends are disposed to hog things. Paducah has the headquarters of the district committee, has had two committee meetings and one district convention this year, to say nothing of the State encampment lasting a month.

While Dr. Clardy, the nominee of the Democratic party for Congress, was not the first choice of all the members of the party, yet he seems to have been the choice of a majority of that party. As such we most cheerfully accept the situation and propose to make the very best fight possible for the doctor. He is a good man, will make a good representative and be a credit to our district. We have but little more doubt of his election in November than we have that he will be anywhere from 3,000 to 5,000.—Hustler.

This is a fact to have a bad or hobby; so if you do not wish to be considered "a no account sort of person" you must straightway adopt one. Of course, ordinary people cannot afford to indulge in hobbies that cost money, like Rembrandts and houses, and yachting; but you may have a hobby for walking, and that costs only shoe-leather and time; or for collecting wild flowers, which is quite as inexpensive; indeed, there are a thousand and one things that are pleasant to do, and can easily be developed into very presentable hobbies. In the September number of DeMores's Magazine, Henry O. Havemyer, Francis Wilford, Hamilton W. Mabie, Edward E. Rice, and Senator W. A. Puffer talk entertainingly about their hobbies, and it is very interesting reading; the interest being heightened by their accompanying portraits. Altogether, this is an exceptionally brilliant number; and the beautiful water-color, "Goldenrod," is worth much more to lovers of the beautiful than the subscription price for the whole year, which is only $2. Published by W. J. JENNINGS, Democrat, 15 E. 14th St., New York.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 70c.

The Boom For Grace.

Judge Grace would honor the court of appeals bench. The First district could not find a man either by experience or natural qualification better fitted to wear the ermine as a judge of the State's highest court.—Muhlenberg.

The announcement from Judge Quigley that he will not enter the race for Appellate Judge in the First district simplifies matters very much. It would seem at this time that Judge John R. Grace has the advantage in the fight, which has hardly shaped up as yet, however.—Courier-Journal.

The woods are full of candidates to succeed Judge Bennett, but so far Judge Grace has the go on all of them and by all of those who are acquainted with the political situation it is conceded that he is by far the strongest candidate.—Eddyville Tale of Two Cities.

Judge Grace is well known all over the State and especially in west Kentucky. He has been circuit judge of his district continuously for four terms and is now serving the fifth. No better testimonial of a man's ability as a lawyer, impartiality as a judge, and merit as a private citizen can be given than to elect him so many times to the same responsible office. His first election shows his people had confidence in him, as having all the qualifications necessary to serve them acceptably on the bench; and his subsequent elections show that their confidence was not misplaced. A man can not go before those who do not know him with a higher recommendation than Judge Grace brings. If the people shall see fit to place him on the bench of the highest court in the State, we have no doubt he will honor them as well as himself in his discharge of the office.—Mayfield Mirror.

Judge Jno. R. Grace formally announces his candidacy for the appellate bench. He desires to fill the place made vacant by the death of Judge Bennett. Those two men were life long friends and it is but natural that Judge Grace should aspire to the office so perfectly filled by his lamented friend. For 26 years Judge Grace has served his district as Circuit Judge, and his experience on the bench has eminently qualified him for the wider field and more prominent place to which he aspires. No Judge in the State is more favorably known than Grace, and his record as a jurist adds lustre to the great name of the State. His repeated election to the bench by such a refined, intelligent constituency as he serves, is in itself a recommendation that any man may well be proud of and one that should have and will have great weight with the people of the appellate district. Judge Grace would be fittingly fill the shoes of the great Bennett.—Crittenden Press.

According to the Henderson Journal, Mr. Yeaman is going to spread himself over a portion of the Third district in his race for appellate judge. Bro. Lyne mentions Davies as one of the counties he will carry.

Sells Bros. Astonishing Aggregation. Its fame rests securely on a triumph placed covering almost a quarter of a century. It is worthily accorded the highest niche in the temple of American amusements, and the strongest evidence of "the survival of the fittest." The royal road to the people's hearts is reached only through unswerving integrity and a cordial adherence to the principles and to this end Sells Brothers' motto in organizing "The Big Show of the World" for 1894 is to excel, not only in presenting to the American public an exhibition morally pure and instructive, but greater, grander in its extensive Zoological, Aerial and electrical specialties, and in the number of its attractions, merged and marshaled in a glorious and unparelleled unity, embracing two hundred strolling acts in three rings and two elevated stages, equestrian, bareback riding, races, roller skating, trained horses, educated lions, trained elephants, trained Hippopotami, trained seals and sea lions, gnomids, contorted circus acts, and a host of other attractions, all of which are presented at the price of 25 cents. Watch for the grand gorgeous parade at 10 A. M. on the day of the exhibition. Special excursion rates on all lines of travel. Hopkinsville, Sept. 12.

The Madisonville Fair. This is fair week in our neighboring town Madisonville. The Hopkins county fair will begin to-morrow and continue throughout the week. The indications point to a most successful display in all of the departments. All of the candidates for State and district offices will be on hand and the attendance is expected to be very large. The annual Fair Hop will be on Friday night. The Hustler will issue a daily during the Fair. The railroads will give a one-fare round trip rate.

Home and Abroad. This is the duty of everyone, whether at home or traveling for pleasure or to earn money, to equip himself with remedies which will keep up a strength and prevent illness, and cure such ills as are liable to come upon him in every day life. For instance, Hood's Sarsaparilla is a general tonic, and to keep the blood pure and free from impurities is the most valuable of all remedies. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a general tonic, and to keep the blood pure and free from impurities is the most valuable of all remedies. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a general tonic, and to keep the blood pure and free from impurities is the most valuable of all remedies.

Book sewing machines to do the work of fastening together the sheets of which the book is composed, were introduced in 1875. Before that time all books were sewed by hand. The book-sewing machine reduced the cost about one-half.

The Past

Quarantees

The fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured thousands of others is certainly sufficient reason for belief that it will cure you. It makes pure, rich, healthy blood, tones and strengthens the nerves, and builds up the whole system. Remember

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures

Be Sure to get HOOD'S and Only HOOD'S.

Hood's Pills are especially prepared to be taken with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 20c. per box.

The Southern Magazine for September contains as its leading article "Art in the South," by that delightful writer on art matters, William Sartain, presented with reproductions of masterpieces of Darby, Bingham, Clinedinst Allston, and other famous Southern artists.

Once a Famous Beauty. Mrs. Sallie Ward, Lawrence Hunt Armstrong Downs, who is on her death bed at the Galt house in Louisville, was born in Louisville 65 years ago. The history of the family is one continued romance. On the paternal side, she could trace her ancestry back to the year 1560, when the Flournoys, an old Huguenot family, were compelled to fly from France to Geneva, Italy.

At the age of 18 years, greatly against the dictates of her heart, she was persuaded to marry Bigelow Lawrence, of Boston. The Lawrence family was noted for its great wealth as was the family of Sallie Ward. Yet the two families were extremely opposite types. The Lawrences were descended from an old Puritan family known to be very close where the expenditure of money was concerned, while the Ward family were always princely in the lavish of money. Mrs. Lawrence, after her removal to Boston, found her expenses curtailed to such a degree that she found her condition unbearable. She left Mr. Lawrence and returned to Kentucky. She obtained a divorce and married Dr. Robert W. Hunt, of Kentucky. At his death, shortly after the war, she married Wm. Armstrong, who died several years afterward. About ten years ago she married George Downs, a wealthy and retired merchant of Louisville.

During the greater portion of her life, Mrs. Downs, or, as she was more familiarly known, Sallie Ward, excited the envy of many. Yet she was noted for her amiability. She was never known to say an unkind word of anyone. If she could say no good, she said nothing. Those whom she knew she spoke to kindly and lovingly wherever and whenever she met them. She will leave a fortune of probably $500,000. Her lace alone are worth from $25,000 to $30,000 and are a fortune in themselves.

DEATHS.

LITCHFIELD.—Mrs. Janus Litch died at her home near Ren shaw's store Saturday of cancer aged 48 years.

TAYLOR.—Mr. Isaac Taylor died at his home near California Tuesday last of consumption, aged about 50 years.

McARTY.—Mrs. Mary McCarly, widow of the late John B. McCarly, died last Friday of pneumonia, aged 77 years. For many years Mrs. McCarly has made her home at John Orr's, in this city. She owned a fine farm in the Gracery neighborhood, which has been operated for the last eighteen years by Mr. John J. Reed. Mr. Reed's excellent management of their mutual interests, conducted under the firm name of Reed & McCarly added largely to the handsome property of Mrs. McCarly, whose estate is a very valuable one. She was a member of the Christian church and her generosity has shown itself in a number of large donations to her church and other worthy objects. One of the latest of these was the erection of the McCarly Hall, the new boarding department of South Kentucky College. She will be greatly missed by her church, as she was one of its most useful members, one who could always be relied upon to do a double part in every good work. Mrs. McCarly's funeral was preached Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, by her pastor, Eld. J. W. Mitchell, and the interment followed in Hopewell Cemetery. The services were held from the residence of Mr. John Orr, on Sixth street. A large procession of sorrowing friends followed the body to its last resting place.

COLORADO.

MASON.—Wash Mason died in the city last Thursday of dropsy aged 60 years.

SUFF.—The wife of Armistead Ship died of consumption Saturday at her home six miles east of the city, aged 27 years.

JONES.—Mrs. Washington Jones died in this city last Tuesday at the extremely old age of 106. She enjoyed good health until a few days before her death. Her funeral was preached by Rev. E. Williams, at the Virginia street Baptist church Friday.

Book sewing machines to do the work of fastening together the sheets of which the book is composed, were introduced in 1875. Before that time all books were sewed by hand. The book-sewing machine reduced the cost about one-half.

Beverly Gleanings.

BEVERLY, Aug. 24.—Miss Martha Durand, an attractive young lady of Memphis, is visiting the Misses Fleming.

Mrs. Dr. Christian and little son, Richard, of Paducah, are visiting her sister, Mrs. George Major.

Mrs. Jennie Smith, after a pleasant visit to her cousin, Mrs. Dr. Kenner, has returned to her home in Honey Grove, Tex.

Master Hugh Major entertained a number of his friends at his home Friday evening.

Miss Mary Yates, of Church Hill, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Delbert Cayce.

Miss Ella Johnson, of Rich neighborhood, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. D. Jones.

Miss Brenda Huffman, of Carbondale, Tenn. is visiting Mrs. Gum Huffman.

The fall term of our school which begins Sept. 3d will be conducted by Prof. Duncanson and sister.

One of the most delightful events of the season was a moonlight given by Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Cayce at their home, Wednesday evening, 1 mile north of Beverly. Miss Georgia Gregory, our lovely hostess, acted her part to perfection. Those present will look back on it as one of the brightest spots in their memory. At a late hour refreshments were passed around, of which every one ate heartily. Those present were: Misses Georgia Gregory, Mamie Middleton, Elsie Kimmerling, Addie Brodie, Lillian and Lizzie Fay, Lee and Sudey Syser, Mary Lou and Bessie Kenner, Marian Cayce, Minnie and Bonnie Coleman, Lavonia and Anna Fleming, Marilla Durand, Lena and Laura Wilks, M. Hays and Mary Phipps, Mattie Boyd, Mary McCulloch, Mattie Sue Browning, Hettie and Lizzie Knight, Ella and Mollie Johnson, Blanche and Louisa Steger, Brenda Huffman, Daisy Rice, Minnie Adams, Courtney and Addie Major, Mrs. Mary Watkins, Jessie Torian, Mrs. Zephie Childress, Hattie and Pearl Myers, Maggie and Lavonia Gorman, Jennie Major, and Miss Earl. The young men present were: Messrs. Jim Cayce, Jim and Ben Ward, Prof. Duncanson, John Strube, Wallace, Jack, Ben and Tom West, Will and Sam White, Walter Ward, John Major, John Boyd, Will Major, Jeff Hearn, Jim Gary, Minor and Posie Cayce, Asa Coffey, Roy Cayce, Bob Duncanson, Walter and John Ford, Herbert Shanklin, John Knight, Erastus Major, Burr Harlow, Eld and Walker Fleming, W. Seay, George Major, I. H. Wills, Will Adcock, Jim Adams, Bud Golsay, Major Carter, Fox and Frank Holloway, Melvin Kimmerling, Frank Miller, Frank Prowse, Dulin Wenner, Sam and Dick Adcock, Ed Guthrie, Rob Kenner, Jim Bradshaw, Broussard Gregory, Charles Prowse, Lee Cayce, Charlie Johnston, Jim Madley, Campbell and Fred Moss, Aubrey and Charlie Major, Almon Browning, Charlie Collins, Charlie Boyd, John Dixon, Buck McKnight, Bird Free and Tom Torian.

If this escapes the waste basket you will hear from us again.

MAMA'S PERS.

Everybody will be interested in what is said about Olive Branch in another column. It costs only $1 a month.

NOT BUNGO MEN.

Generals Slocum and McMahon Narrowly Escaped.

How near a general Slocum came once to arrest as a common swindler will bear telling, for nobody enjoyed the incident in recollection better than he did. He and General McMahon were on their way home to New York from an inspection of the soldiers' home at Dayton, Ohio, and stopped at Philadelphia for breakfast. While waiting at the station for the train to board, the special car McMahon observed a man whom he thought he recognized as an acquaintance, and, being of a social turn, approached him and shook hands cordially.

"How do you do, Mr. —"

"Bradford," obligingly interjected the stranger.

"Of New York, I remember?"

"No, of Bryn Mawr," responded the stranger.

"Ah, yes—Bryn Mawr. I had forgotten. Glad to see you. When did you get to New York?"

Just then Slocum came up. He had caught the name and recollected a Bradford who had served in his command during the war. "Why, hello!" he exclaimed with effusion. "Do you know me?" My name is Slocum. You're Bradford of Bryn Mawr. Know you well during the war. It isn't possible you have forgotten me."

Bradford, meanwhile, had edged toward a policeman in the depot. "I can't say, Mr. Slocum, that I remember you or your friend," said he, "and I don't propose to join you in any kind of a game this morning. The fact is I knew you both to be confidence operators from the first moment I saw you."

The policeman, who had evidently caught on, made a grab for the two generals, who made a simultaneous rush for the special car. It was just about moving off. As they scrambled on board the policeman dashed for the telegraph office, but the car made no stop within the jurisdiction of the Philadelphia police and the fugitives escaped.

A QUEER CATCH.

He Cast a Fly and Hooked a Red Squid.

Es-Judge F. J. Fitch returned to his home in Prattville, N. Y., from his two weeks' fishing trip on the Neversink in Sullivan county, a few days ago. In answer to a question, "What success in fishing?" he replied: "Poor, in consequence of the cold weather and excessive rains. I caught but 121 trout and one red squid."

Other questions led to the statement by him that, while casting his flies at the end of about forty feet of line, he saw a squid swimming across the stream, and from the impulse of the moment, made a cast for it and drove the hook of the trail fly through one of its fore legs. As it was impossible to reel in the game and take it home, the squid was

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, a refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

He has its full corroborative of a queer fish story and evidence of his accuracy in fly casting. He also stated that this was the fiftieth consecutive year in which he had fished for trout, and that his scores of all those years, beginning with July, 1845, showed that he had caught in the aggregate 28,475 trout. He added that all save in the first five years, had been caught with a fly.

Flavored With Cologne.

It is no secret that the French culinary experts employ pure de cologne to produce with other essences that subtle, mysterious, but delicious flavor often tasted in fruit salads and other cookery confections. In the genuine cologne there is a certain extract of rosemary and lemon thyme. Here is a real French Dessert: Put in a salad bowl a layer of chopped ice well powdered with sugar, and upon this a layer of bananas, and a handful of chopped ice and sugar and after this bananas, repeating till the bowl is as full as required. Pour upon the fruit a wineglass of white wine and one of water, in which you have dipped a lump of sugar that has absorbed three drops of almond essence, and another that has absorbed three drops of genuine eau de cologne.

"Has the Hypocrite Come?"

A Worcester deacon sent to represent his church at the recent Congressional conference at Pittsburg, in the report of his duties at the mid-week prayer-meeting of the church recently, told a very amusing story of childish confusion of terms. A little Pittsburg girl had evidently been greatly impressed by the preparations at her home for the entertainment of the delegate. She was earnestly watching in common with the others of the family, for his arrival, and finally broke out with the question: "Hasn't the hypocrite come yet?" The family told the story to the delegate. He knows a good thing when he hears it, and he repeated it to his church.

Worcester deacon sent to represent his church at the recent Congressional conference at Pittsburg, in the report of his duties at the mid-week prayer-meeting of the church recently, told a very amusing story of childish confusion of terms. A little Pittsburg girl had evidently been greatly impressed by the preparations at her home for the entertainment of the delegate. She was earnestly watching in common with the others of the family, for his arrival, and finally broke out with the question: "Hasn't the hypocrite come yet?" The family told the story to the delegate. He knows a good thing when he hears it, and he repeated it to his church.

Worcester deacon sent to represent his church at the recent Congressional conference at Pittsburg, in the report of his duties at the mid-week prayer-meeting of the church recently, told a very amusing story of childish confusion of terms. A little Pittsburg girl had evidently been greatly impressed by the preparations at her home for the entertainment of the delegate. She was earnestly watching in common with the others of the family, for his arrival, and finally broke out with the question: "Hasn't the hypocrite come yet?" The family told the story to the delegate. He knows a good thing when he hears it, and he repeated it to his church.

Worcester deacon sent to represent his church at the recent Congressional conference at Pittsburg, in the report of his duties at the mid-week prayer-meeting of the church recently, told a very amusing story of childish confusion of terms. A little Pittsburg girl had evidently been greatly impressed by the preparations at her home for the entertainment of the delegate. She was earnestly watching in common with the others of the family, for his arrival, and finally broke out with the question: "Hasn't the hypocrite come yet?" The family told the story to the delegate. He knows a good thing when he hears it, and he repeated it to his church.

Worcester deacon sent to represent his church at the recent Congressional conference at Pittsburg, in the report of his duties at the mid-week prayer-meeting of the church recently, told a very amusing story of childish confusion of terms. A little Pittsburg girl had evidently been greatly impressed by the preparations at her home for the entertainment of the delegate. She was earnestly watching in common with the others of the family, for his arrival, and finally broke out with the question: "Hasn't the hypocrite come yet?" The family told the story to the delegate. He knows a good thing when he hears it, and he repeated it to his church.

Worcester deacon sent to represent his church at the recent Congressional conference at Pittsburg, in the report of his duties at the mid-week prayer-meeting of the church recently, told a very amusing story of childish confusion of terms. A little Pittsburg girl had evidently been greatly impressed by the preparations at her home for the entertainment of the delegate. She was earnestly watching in common with the others of the family, for his arrival, and finally broke out with the question: "Hasn't the hypocrite come yet?" The family told the story to the delegate. He knows a good thing when he hears it, and he repeated it to his church.

Worcester deacon sent to represent his church at the recent Congressional conference at Pittsburg, in the report of his duties at the mid-week prayer-meeting of the church recently, told a very amusing story of childish confusion of terms. A little Pittsburg girl had evidently been greatly impressed by the preparations at her home for the entertainment of the delegate. She was earnestly watching in common with the others of the family, for his arrival, and finally broke out with the question: "Hasn't the hypocrite come yet?" The family told the story to the delegate. He knows a good thing when he hears it, and he repeated it to his church.

Worcester deacon sent to represent his church at the recent Congressional conference at Pittsburg, in the report of his duties at the mid-week prayer-meeting of the church recently, told a very amusing story of childish confusion of terms. A little Pittsburg girl had evidently been greatly impressed by the preparations at her home for the entertainment of the delegate. She was earnestly watching in common with the others of the family, for his arrival, and finally broke out with the question: "Hasn't the hypocrite come yet?" The family told the story to the delegate. He knows a good thing when he hears it, and he repeated it to his church.

Worcester deacon sent to represent his church at the recent Congressional conference at Pittsburg, in the report of his duties at the mid-week prayer-meeting of the church recently, told a very amusing story of childish confusion of terms. A little Pittsburg girl had evidently been greatly impressed by the preparations at her home for the entertainment of the delegate. She was earnestly watching in common with the others of the family, for his arrival, and finally broke out with the question: "Hasn't the hypocrite come yet?" The family told the story to the delegate. He knows a good thing when he hears it, and he repeated it to his church.

Worcester deacon sent to represent his church at the recent Congressional conference at Pittsburg, in the report of his duties at the mid-week prayer-meeting of the church recently, told a very amusing story of childish confusion of terms. A little Pittsburg girl had evidently been greatly impressed by the preparations at her home for the entertainment of the delegate. She was earnestly watching in common with the others of the family, for his arrival, and finally broke out with the question: "Hasn't the hypocrite come yet?" The family told the story to the delegate. He knows a good thing when he hears it, and he repeated it to his church.

Worcester deacon sent to represent his church at the recent Congressional conference at Pittsburg, in the report of his duties at the mid-week prayer-meeting of the church recently, told a very amusing story of childish confusion of terms. A little